Greatest Suit Bargains of the Season

One hundred and forty of the three hundred new suits spoken of in another column will be on sale to-morrow morning. The material was in the piece on Thursday, so you'll see how new the garments are.

Great is the power of ready cash with a clothing manufacturer at this time in the season!

We secured these suits at fully one third less than their value by going into the market after them with the ready money.

They represent the highest class of tailoring, and were purchased from a concern from which we buy thousands of dollars' worth yearly at regular prices.

We need say no more about their splendid value—our assertion, backed up by the suits themselves, is sufficient.
